MEMORANDUM

TO: Temple Divan Leaders

FROM: John C. Piland, Executive Vice President

DATE: July 20, 2021

SUBJECT: New Legislation Regarding Training of Temple Leaders

Legislation was considered and passed at the 2021 Imperial Session that adds the requirement that to be qualified to serve as temple Potentate, one must have attended either the Oriental Guide or the Assistant Rabban training seminar. This requirement becomes effective November 1, 2022.

Therefore, temple officers, particularly Assistant Rabban's, should plan to attend these training conferences.

Officers of the temple who are junior to the Oriental Guide are not eligible to attend the Oriental Guide training seminars. High Priests and Prophets are eligible to attend the Oriental Guide training but are not eligible to attend the Assistant Rabban training seminars.

It is important that temples budget resources for the purpose of having its Divan members participate in this required training. The Chief Rabban should include funding, as necessary, to meet the requirements of this legislation in his proposed temple budget.

While the Imperial Potentate may waive the provisions of this requirement upon a showing of good and sufficient cause, we anticipate such waivers to be extraordinarily rare. Therefore, temple leaders serving on the temple Divan are encouraged to take an active role in planning to receive the required education and training necessary

This is the last official notice that will be served upon the Nobility regarding this year's elections and will be emailed and posted on the Oasis website.
